

Elk Point 4-H Multi Club determines the 1996 champions

Elk Point Fairgrounds Arena was filled with top quality cattle on Friday, May 31 as the Elk Point 4-H Multi Club held their annual achievement day for the steer and heifer projects. Ray Danyluk served as Master of Ceremonies for the evening, while Kevin Wirsta was Ringmaster.

The first part of the show consisted of grooming, showmanship and judging competitions, with all members taking part. Grooming and Showmanship were judged by Carol Bettac. Tim Havener was the winner in the Senior Grooming category, sponsored by Elk Point Insurance and Realty, with Jason Marcoux as runner-up, while Peter Danyluk won the Junior division, sponsored by Home Town Grocers, with Leanne Ference as runner-up. The Clayton Orr Memorial halters for showmanship went to Senior member Robyn Danyluk and Junior George Danyluk, with Tim Havener and Amanda Wirsta as the Senior and Junior runners-up. Tim Havener won the Senior Judging award sponsored by Lloydminster Heavy Crude,

Heinsburg's Class of '96 holds on to their dreams

The twelve members of Heinsburg High School's Class of '96 were honored by their families and friends on Friday, May 31 with Farewell Ceremonies with the theme, "Hold on to your Dreams."

The evening started with a banquet at the community hall, at which Mrs. Anne Bristow offered grace. Graduant Fiona Daniels toasted the parents, saying, "We just want you to know how great you are." Helen Skolarchuk replied on behalf of the parents, and said "when you are trying to reach your dreams, remember your friends and family are behind you and love you."

Tyler Gladue toasted the Heinsburg School staff for "putting up with us all those years," while the reply came from Cathy Botting, who said the staff "is proud to be part of your graduation day," and offered a toast to the graduands.

The ceremonies were held in the school gym, with Lorelei Werstiuk and Adrian Kiss sharing the MC duties.

Daleen Gunderson offered the invocation, telling her fellow graduands, "believe in yourself... in truth... in your dreams and goals." Tyler Gladue and Michael Calliou shared the role of Students Council President, and thanked the class for their support.

David Skolarchuk gave the valedictory address, and thanked the teachers: "without their encouragement, we wouldn't be here." He told his fellow students that "when we leave the safe haven of Heinsburg... if we believe in ourselves, we will have more successes than failures."

Skolarchuk continued the unique Heinsburg tradition of the passing on of the colors, making the presentation to

Millionaire program does not find a home here

The "I Want To Be A Millionaire" program will not run in Elk Point for the summer of 1996. Three community service organizations offered financial assistance toward the operation of the program, this type of support indicates recognition of the value of the program. However, a facilitator could not be found for the program for 1996.

There is opportunity for the service organizations to work together in a cooperative effort for next year and possibly hire a facilitator. The organizer of last year's Millionaire program, Anne Himschoot of St. Paul / Smoky Lake Community Futures, appreciates the efforts of the service organizations who considered the program and the service organizations who indicated financial support of the program.

A.G. ROSS ARENA OPERATING COMMITTEE

Annual General Meeting - Monday, June 10 - 7:30 p.m. - A.G. Ross Arena*All arena users and interested community members are invited to attend.Boating accident prompts safety reminder*By Cst. C. de la Giroday and
Sgt. J. A. HumphreyElk Point RCMP Detachment*

At approximately 4:00 p.m. on Saturday, May 25, 1996 the Elk Point RCMP responded to a capsized boat complaint at Kehewin Lake, north of Elk Point. A small aluminum boat carrying four adults and two youths capsized when the boat suddenly took on water from very rough waters. Fortunately, Mitch Goulet of Riverview and Alex Serniak of St. Paul were in the vicinity and were able to rescue the victims after hearing their cries for help. The victims were all wearing life jackets at the time of the accident but were in the initial stages of hypothermia when they were rescued, due to the cold water temperatures.

In light of this incident, the RCMP would like to stress the following in regards to boating safety:

- It is crucial that all boaters are familiar with boating regulations. Booklets can be obtained at your nearest detachment.

- Proper life jackets should be WORN at all times.

- Know what the maximum weight capacity of your boat is and be sure not to exceed it, as this can cause the vessel to capsize, as in the above noted incident.

- Know the capabilities of your vessel and whether or not it can handle rough water and weather conditions.

- Always be prepared for any situation. Ensure that clothing is suited for the weather and know that weather conditions can change quickly.

Should you ever find yourself in a situation where your boat has capsized and you are in the water, it is a good idea to stay with the boat unless you are absolutely certain that you can swim to shore as the cold water and clothing can greatly reduce your ability to swim any long distance.

Seniors Week is June 2 to 8, 1996

By Deanna Easthope

FCSS Director

This is a week we can all take to think about senior citizens in our community of Elk Point and area. These people are a vital part of our families as they give generously of their wisdom, experience and love. They are a vital part of our community for they have skills, knowledge, experience and leadership.

We all say a big thank you for being who you are — we appreciate all you do — you are important people in our community. Thank you.

CRITERIA OF SUCCESSFUL AGING

In the book, "The Psychology of Aging" by James E. Birren, he states that the meaning of "successful aging" is elusive and is particularly susceptible to one's own social value or judgements of what is important in life. As used, "successful aging" has two principal implications. One is the life satisfaction that the individual himself experiences. The other criterion of successful aging appraises the adequacy of the individual's fulfilling his social roles or interpersonal obligations. Successful aging has thus an inner, or psychological, criterion and an outer, or social, one.

To put this more simply, my interpretation would be that "successful aging" really depends on our own attitude about who we are, why we are here and where we are going in life. Then all this depends on how well we meet our own personal as well as our interpersonal obligations on how they relate to our attitudes. If our own evaluation of all this gives us a sense of fulfillment, then we know we can say we are successfully aging.

I am sure if we talk to any senior person, they could all give us words of wisdom on how they achieved their success in aging. Oh, the wisdom we can learn from our seniors is very valuable. Let us all talk to and visit with our seniors.

Senior Citizens Week 1996

By Paul Langevin

MLA, LacLaBiche - St. Paul

For the past ten years in Alberta, we have set aside a special week to recognize the contributions made to our communities by senior citizens. This year, Senior Citizens Week runs from June 2 to 8, 1996.

This special week is spearheaded by the Seniors Advisory Council for Alberta, an autonomous, arms-length Council appointed by the Alberta government to provide advice to government on issues affecting seniors.

As the MLA for Lac La Biche - St. Paul, I am pleased to join the Seniors Advisory Council for Alberta and communities around the province as we celebrate this special week.

The purpose of Senior Citizens Week is three-fold:

- * To recognize and honor senior citizens in Alberta;
- * To highlight the significant contributions that seniors are making in their communities; and
- * To promote understanding and encourage positive attitudes toward seniors.

I would like to invite everyone in our community to recognize Senior Citizens Week and to take part in events planned in the community.

Marking time at Buckingham House

A site marking bee was held Saturday, May 25 at Fort George - Buckingham House Interpretive Centre, when volunteers laid markers around the perimeters of the sites of the big house, blacksmith shop and warehouse at the original location of the HBC's Buckingham House, under the direction of Dave Koshman of Alberta Historic Sites. Above, some of the beams are laid in place, while at right, they are secured with long metal stakes.

TIC Talk

Propped open and in business

By Sherry Pelech

Tourist Information Clerk

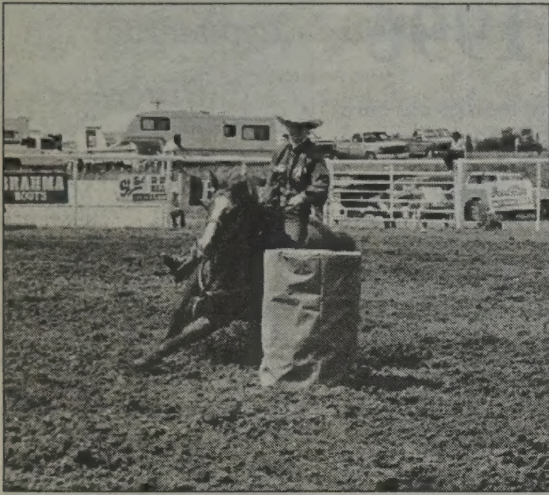

Welcome to the 1996 tourist season. The Tourist Information Centre (TIC) opened on June 1 and we are again looking forward to suggesting destinations and advising available routes (telling people where to go and how to get there).

This year our hours are 11 a.m. to 6 p.m. Wednesday through Sunday and all holiday Mondays (tentatively until we figure out if this scheduling is going to work out or not).

As we report every year at this time, the new Alberta Accommodation Guides, Campground guides and maps and the new Saskatchewan Accommodation / Campground / Vacation Guides and maps are here, but as usual, the BC information is not yet available (printing delays — any day now — we're on the list). We'll keep you posted.

The Pioneer Museum next door is sporting a large new sign that advises the museum is open "by appointment or chance." We suggest that anyone who has not had an opportunity to tour this amazing collection, make an appointment to do so by phoning 724-3654 or take a chance that proprietor Steve Andrichak is home and available. It is well worth the effort.

COMING AROUND THE TURN -- Pam Veer on her way to a win in the Junior Barrels at Elk Point Spring Classic Stampede on Sunday.

A whopping total of 348 entries took part in the Elk Point Spring Classic Stampede, June 1 and 2, with the sun coming out just in time for a very enjoyable weekend.

Two full performances and a large slack performance produced some good scores and fast times, and although infield conditions were a little softer than ideal for the horses, they were also a little softer for cowboys to bail off on.

Both afternoons started with a musical ride grand entry, followed by the Wild Cow Milking sponsored by Lakeland Tire and PJ Ranch. Sunday's winners were Shane Buksa and Todd Moen, with Travis Reay and Brent Coates coming in second.

A 77 point ride in Sunday's first go-round of Bareback earned Eric Amos of Edmonton, who took on Les Trach's good horse Satin, the Bareback award sponsored by Grenco Industries.

Sun shines on '96 Spring Classic Stampede

Calf Roping was also determined on Sunday, with Curtis Cassidy of Donalda turning in a time of 9.5 seconds for the Klinger's Oilfield Services award.

Saturday's 74 point rides by David Bensmiller of Dewberry and Trevor Wittmack of Consort hung in for a joint win in the Junior Steer Riding, sponsored by Hi-West Well Servicing, although Malcolm Anderson and Jason Gehring, both of Grand Centre, came close with 73 points apiece in the Sunday performance.

Steer Wrestling's winner, Lindsey Taylor, gave his 4.0 second performance in Saturday's slack to take home the Reid's Welding (1981) Inc. award. Sunday's closest competitors were Shane Buksa of Mannville and Gene Wiart of Alliance, both with 4.2 second times.

Kevin Bresee of Ponoka rode Whitefoot to a 75 point score on Saturday in the Saddle Bronc competition sponsored by Gibson's Petroleum Co. Ltd., but had to split the win with Dean Komant of Sherwood Park who rode Indian Outlaw to an equally good score on Sunday. Announcer Bernie Poitras experienced a brief interruption in his colorful play-by-play due to a power outage during this segment of the rodeo.

The up-and-coming cowboys showed their talents in the Novice Horse Riding, with Trevor Wittmack's 66 points aboard Little Implements on Saturday, hanging in for the Empress Restaurant award.

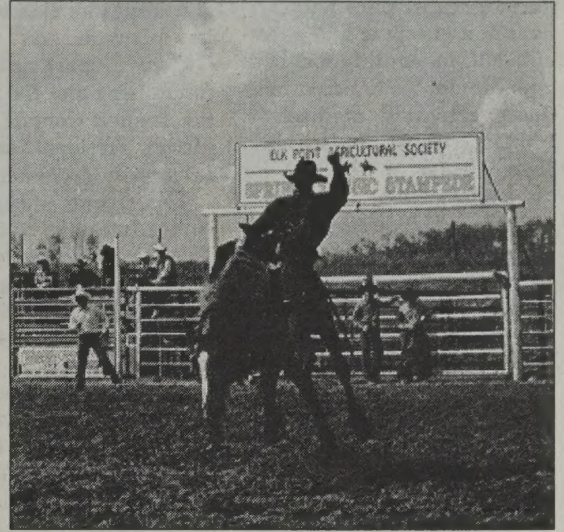

Local cowgirl Pam Veer was the winner in the Junior Barrel Racing, with a good 18.136 run earning her the Shamrock Valley Enterprises award.

In the Ladies' Barrels, sponsored by Lloydminster Heavy Crude, Sunday's first competitor, Lara Willows of Buck Lake advanced her lead in the rookie standings with a winning 17.764 second run. A total of 65 barrel racers competed in the event over the three performances.

Sunday was not a good day for team ropers. Only one catch was recorded, and it was considerably slower than Saturday's 6.6 seconds, clocked in by Murray Linthicum and Rocky Dallyn for the E-Can Oilfield Services award.

Saturday's 82 point bull ride by Danny Gauthier of Edmonton, on Homer, could not be equalled, with Sunday's closest mark being a 71 on a ride by Dallas Turcotte of High Prairie. Tags Food and Gas sponsored the Bull Riding.

CRACKIN' OUT -- CJ Best takes on a mean bareback bronc in the Novice Horse Riding at Elk Point Spring Classic Stampede.

The best of the past displayed at Happy Daze Auto Show

Close to 40 fine examples of the auto manufacturers' art were on display Saturday as Elk Point Auto Club and the Elk Point Chamber of Commerce Merchants Committee hosted the Happy Daze Car Show.

Gleaming vehicles lined Main Street, drawing lots of attention from good crowds of viewers, who voted for their favorites as well as enjoying hot dogs and burgers at the Lioness food booth, taking in entertainment by Travis Pankiw, Pam Jabush and Bob Thompson, and shopping for Happy Daze specials.

When the day drew to a close and all the votes were counted, a 1941 Ford pickup truck, purple with a silvery flame design, was voted the People's Choice, winning a trophy from Westside Muffler. Owner Terry McHale of Fort McMurray also picked up the Furthest Away award.

A unique 1929 Graham Paige shown by Clem Lamoreux of Gibbons was first in the Antique category, for the Elk Point Auto Club trophy, and tied with Bob Lee's 1929 Desoto Roadster for the Oldest Auto award. Second in the Antique category, for the Mystery Man trophy, was Laurier Fontaine's 1957 Ford 2-door hardtop from Spruce Grove.

Mike Drodzowski's 1956 Oldsmobile from Edmonton was first in the Convertibles category for the Elk Point Insurance trophy, while the Tom Cat Trucking trophy for second place went to Glenn Harms' sparkly black 1966 Chevelle.

Gunter May's cherry '57 Chevy, a perennial favorite, won the Woody's Trophy award in the Show category, with second place trophy from Harold Lefebvre Construction going to Paul Buoy's 1958 Chev Impala from Vegreville.

Brian Blanchard of Bonnyville brought his 1963 Mercury F100 to win the Quality Tools first prize in the Truck category. Russ Adams of St. Paul placed second with a 1972 GMC halfton for the B & D Industrial trophy.

A 1964 Ford Galaxie shown by Mike McCallum of Wainwright won the Shamrock Valley Enterprises trophy in the Post 1960 category, with a local entry of a 1968 Camaro owned by Doug Lubinsky winning the Dan's Auto Body trophy for second place.

Larry Nordquist of Lloydminster won the Northern Valley Store trophy in the Modified category with his 1930 Model A street rod. Charles Balash of St. Paul was second for the Lloydminster Heavy Crude trophy with a 1989 GMC SLE.

Happy Daze committee chair Barb Croteau attributes the success of the event to all who cooperated with the Merchants Committee and the Auto Club in the event, including Larry Kozicky of Larry's Picker Service, who decorated the street with banners, Shamrock Valley Enterprises, the Golf Club, who loaned picnic tables, the Town of Elk Point, who closed the street for the event, Janet Jabush, who helped with the entertainment, Ron Croteau who ran 1001 errands, and the weatherman, who delivered the good weather just in time after a week of rain and cloudwatching.

JUST FOR TODAY

By Margaret Modin
President, Pioneer Circle Society

As I was sorting through some of my files a day or so ago — so my kids won't have to do it when I move on — I came across this poem which was on a place mat in some cafe on one of our travels. I had stowed it away with the rest of my written treasures, and as I reread it I was again challenged as a senior to keep my mind and body active as long as God allows me to. I want to share it with you and trust it will challenge you, too.

Just for today

Just for today I will try to live through this day only, and not tackle my whole life problems at once. I can do something for twelve hours that would appall me if I felt that I had to keep it up for a lifetime.

Just for today I will be happy. This assumes to be true when Abraham Lincoln said that "Most folks are as happy as they make up their minds to be."

Just for today I will adjust myself to what is, and not try to adjust everything to my own desires. I will take my "life" as it comes and fit myself to it.

Just for today, I will try to strengthen my mind. I will study, I will learn something useful, I will not be a mental loafer. I will read something that requires effort, thought and concentration.

Just for today I will exercise my soul in three ways: I will do somebody a good turn, and not get found out; if anybody knows of it, it will not count. I will do at least two things I don't want to do — just for exercise. I will not show anyone that my feelings are hurt; they may be hurt, but today I will not show it.

Just for today, I will be agreeable. I will look as well as I can, dress becomingly, act courteously, criticize not one bit, not find fault with anything, and not try to improve or regulate anybody except myself.

Just for today I will have a program. I may not follow it exactly, but I will have it. It will save myself from two pests, hurry and indecision.

Just for today I will have a quiet half hour all by myself and relax. During this half hour, sometime, I will try to get a better perspective on my life.

Just for today I will be unafraid. Especially I will not be afraid to enjoy what is beautiful, and to believe that as I give to the world, so the world will give to me.

A PRAYER FOR THE MIDDLE AGED

(From the book, Problems of the Middle Aged, compiled by Clyde B. Vedder)

Lord, thou knowest better than I know myself that I am growing older and will some day be old. Keep me from the fatal habit of thinking I must say something on every subject and on every occasion. Release me from craving to straighten out everybody's affairs. Make me thoughtful but not moody, helpful but not bossy. With my vast store of wisdom, it seems a pity not to use it all, but thou knowest, Lord, that I want a few friends at the end.

Keep my mind free from the recital of endless details; give me wings to get to the point. Seal my lips on my aches and pains. They are increasing and love of rehearsing them is becoming sweeter as the years go by. I dare not ask grace enough to enjoy the tales of another's pains, but help me to endure them with patience.

I dare not ask for improved memory, but for a growing humility and less cocksureness when my memory seems to clash with the memories of others. Teach me the glorious lesson that occasionally I may be mistaken. Keep me reasonably sweet, I do not want to be a saint — some of them are so hard to live with — but a sour old person is one of the crowning works of the devil. Give me the ability to see good things in unexpected places and talents in unsuspected people. Give me the grace to tell them so. Amen.

RCMP and community working together

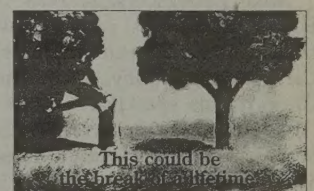

Greater Lakeland Rural Crime Watch

Rural Crime Watch is a program that has been supported by the RCMP of Alberta for over 15 years. It is a program where people of the rural areas are recruited to assist the police in solving and preventing crime in the lower populated areas.

These people are the eyes and ears of the police to help solve such crimes as thefts, break-ins, cattle rustling and suspicious activities.

The police also inform these people of known or reported crimes by way of a phone fan-out system.

This system works when a crime in the rural area is reported to the local Detachment, the investigating member takes the pertinent information, puts it into a computer and it is then sent to the rural crime watch members to be on the lookout for either property or persons responsible for the crime.

Seniors Wellness Program

By Barb Kaufman
Elk Point Health Centre

"WELLNESS" — The buzzword of the '90s. But what does it mean and what are the implications for seniors in Elk Point? From the dictionary, a 1970 edition, there is no such word. If you bridge the word 'well' — in good health or condition — and 'ness' — the condition or quality of being, you end up with the quality of being in good health. To our seniors, this may mean a variety of things. It may be that they are able to live on their own with minimal or no assistance, they are able to care for their spouse or they are able to lead a very active life.

Wellness is a very singular word. What it means to each individual is very different. Wellness for a diabetic has a very different view than wellness for a person at the age of 63 who has no chronic illness. Just like wellness for a 16 year old differs from that of an 85 year old. It is all very relative and dependent on the person and their situation.

With wellness for seniors, we strive for the older person to lead an active, fulfilling life that they themselves are happy with. As part of health promotion for all citizens of Lakeland Health Region, we strive to meet the needs of everyone. Not to single any group out, but in Elk Point there are a large number of seniors in the community and by the calendar at the Seniors Recreation Centre, they fall into the very active category.

A group of people met in early March to discuss the needs and concerns of seniors in Elk Point. Approximately 20 people, seniors, caregivers and community members met in the Elk Point Health Centre to discuss what programs would be of benefit to seniors on a needs basis. The following list was developed:

1. Transportation;
2. Spring Cleaning;
3. Snow Shovelling;
4. Blood pressure screening

- and education;
5. Foot care clinic and general knowledge of caring for the feet;
6. Safety in the home;
7. Insurance and finances;
8. Forms - what, where, who and how;
9. Eye care;
10. Drug safety and pharmacy services;
11. Nutrition, Canada Food Guide, Heart Smart Program;
12. Heel spurs — what pains to ignore and what to look for;
13. Aids to Daily Living programs;
14. Blood sugar screening;
15. Dealing with problems — rights and responsibilities;
16. Dental services — what to look for, oral cancer, products (which are good and which aren't);
17. Loneliness — phoning committee, buddy system, community support;
18. Shopping — label reading, transportation, grocery delivery;
19. Fitness activities for seniors, walking clubs;
20. Monthly injections;
21. How do we avoid people falling through the cracks;
22. Senior proof bottles (i.e. pharmaceuticals); and
23. Church services — transportation.

Heinsburg salutes the Class of '96

Grade 11 student Jon Lehr.

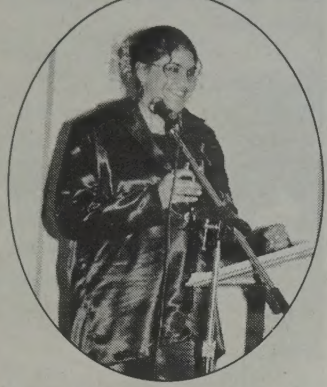

Teachers Sandra Bishop and Adrian Kiss evoked a lot of memories — some that perhaps the grads would have rather forgotten — as they made some very entertaining remarks on each of the graduands. Superintendent of Schools Ted Cabaj presented each grad with a handsomely arranged mortarboard and scroll, and told the class, "you have many dreams to hold on to."

Daleen Gunderson entertained with a heartfelt rendition of a very fitting song, "Letting Go."

School Council Chairman Darrell Youngmans recalled that Heinsburg had been without a Grade 12 class from approximately 1958-59 to 1975. "This is the 21st class to graduate since then. Small rural schools such as ours face real challenges. I hope there will be many more Grade 12 classes in our future." He advised the Class of '96 to "hold on to your dreams, but not so tightly that reality slips away."

Former

HEINSBURG STUDENT JOURNALIST Fiona Daniels toasted the graduands parents at the banquet.

Heinsburg principal Laverne Wilson, who now holds that position at Frog Lake School, brought greetings from Frog Lake's School Board to graduand Alex Dion, who lives in that jurisdiction, and his classmates.

He noted that three of the graduands, David Skolarchuk, Daleen Gunderson and CJ Best, "are the end of the second generation of those families to attend this school."

Ross Daniels spoke on behalf of the Fishing Lake Settlement Councils, and was "pleased to see so many graduands from Fishing Lake. Peggy McGillis made a presentation on behalf of the Council to Michael Calliou, Fiona Daniels, Michael Delorme, Stacey Fluney and Tyler Gladue.

Ken Desjarlais, chairman of the Fishing Lake School Board, told the students "I know it's sometimes very hard to follow your dreams, but graduation gives you the opportunity to follow them. Never let go of those dreams." He told the students that their success "makes the community a better place."

Further encouragement came from guest speaker and former Heinsburg grad Jennifer Daniels, whose sports prowess, "which started right here in this gym,"

PASSING THE COLORS -- David Skolarchuk passed on the Heinsburg school colors to Grade 11 student Jon Lehr.

led her as far away as Switzerland. She urged the grads to "be persistent, and persevere. Use temporary failures to progress to ultimate success." She suggested that they "select your goals with as much care as you select your friends... maintain a positive self-image... gather true friends around you." In closing, she said that "the past provides a solid base for the future... and every tomorrow a vision of hope."

Trisha Keast, Fiona Daniels and Michael Calliou presented gifts of thanks to a number of special guests, including Miss Daniels and those who had helped with the farewell ceremonies.

Principal Lorne Young wound up the program with his congratulations and encouraging remarks, before the Class of '96 filed off the stage in a recessional accompanied by Sound of Color's "End of the Road."

A dance at the community hall completed the gala evening.

Elk Point 4-H MultiClub determines 1996 champions

with Robyn Danyluk as runner-up, while Peter Danyluk won the Junior award from Phil's Home Hardware, with Taralee Babenek as runner-up.

Following an intermission, the Heifer and Cow-Calf projects were judged on conformation. George Danyluk's yearling heifer won the Grand Champion Heifer trophy from Wozniak Bulk Sales, and went on to win Reserve in the Supreme Female Class, with a banner from Banana Hill Farms. Peter Danyluk showed the Reserve Champion Heifer, with an award from Lakeland Tire.

Tim Havener's Cow-Calf pair was declared Grand Champion in that class, with a trophy from Toronto Dominion Bank, and went on to win the Supreme Female Banner from Lazy H Simmentals. Taralee Babenek showed the Reserve Champion Cow-Calf pair to win the CJ Petroleum trophy.

Havener also won the Herdsperson Class championship sponsored by George and Diana Anderson, while Peter Danyluk won the Reserve Championship, sponsored by L7R Limousins.

The MultiClub was saddened early in their year with the tragic loss of one of their members, Bruce Smith, in an accident. The steer which Bruce had chosen for his project was auctioned off during the show, with the proceeds going to the MultiClub. Robin Neilsen of Shamrock Valley Enterprises outbid contenders Lawrence Ference and Mike Boratynec to take home the steer, at an excellent price of $2.07 per pound. An award in memory of Bruce was presented to Robyn Danyluk. Bruce's father, Allen Smith, spoke on behalf of the family, and thanked the community for their support and caring.

The Steer Conformation Class

was the final and most exciting event of the evening, with steers shown by Robyn Danyluk, Shawna Wruth and Leanne Ference going on to the final competition from the lighter weight class, and Taralee Babenek, Monica Naber and Peter Danyluk taking their steers into the final round from the heavyweight class. Peter Danyluk's steer received the top approval from judge Murray McCarthy for the Grand Championship banner presented by Elk Point Co-op, while Monica Naber's steer earned her the Reserve Champion banner from Lakeland Meat Processors.

The club's general leader is Lorraine Danyluk, with Lee Wruth as assistant. Patsy Wirsta is the Steer Project leader, assisted by Stewart Bintz, while Trent Davie is the Heifer Project leader, assisted by Tom Kurek. The club has eight senior and 18 junior members.

Weighmasters for the show were Bernard Boeckmann and Ed Zarowny, while Ellen Seward recorded the weights.

On the ball
By Doug Bassett

White Sox playing .500 baseball

Once again ball season is here, although the weather sure hasn't cooperated.

This year there is an exciting new midget ball league. As some people may have noticed, the west ball diamond at the Rec Park is under construction to accommodate the larger baselines and outfield required for midget ball.

Until this year there hasn't been an organized league for midget aged players, but over the winter a group of interested coaches got together to form the North East Midget League. Teams included in this league are from Cold Lake, Bonnyville, St. Paul, Two Hills, Lac La Biche, Consort, Medley, Mannville, Kikino and Elk Point. The league will play occasionally during the week if the two towns involved are close for travel, but the majority of the games will be double-headers played on Sundays, where three teams will meet for a mini round robin.

Elk Point White Sox had a good start to the season with 3 wins, 3 losses and a tie. Next game is Tuesday night against Lac La Biche, 6:30 on the north hill diamond. Come out and watch the action

RESERVE CHAMPION STEER shown by Monica Naber won the Lakeland Meat Processors trophy presented by Ed Zarowny.

SUPREME CHAMPION FEMALE award from Lazy H Simmentals' Chris Havener was accepted by Tim Havener.

RESERVE CHAMPION FEMALE banner from Banana Hill Farms went to George Danyluk. Robyn Danyluk at the halter.

Books by favorite authors for summer enjoyment

By Michele Ducek
Librarian

Summer is coming (at least that's what the calendar says) and so some of our favorite authors have put pen to paper and brought forth books for our enjoyment:

Moonlight Becomes You by Mary Higgins Clark follows successful fashion photographer Maggie Holloway to Newport, Rhode Island after a chance reunion with her stepmother leads to an invitation to visit. When the stepmother is killed in an apparently random break-in, Maggie discovers that strange things are afoot in Newport.

Eden Rossiter is notorious in the small town of Friendly, Nevada for having escaped a first-degree murder charge but now she is in real trouble as a rich and powerful neighbor is ruthlessly determined to drive her out of business and off the family ranch in Notorious, by Janet Dailey.

In The Obsession by Catherine Cookson, Beatrice Steel becomes obsessed with the family manor after her mother's death and is convinced that no one can take care of it as well as she and no one can take its place in her heart.

M. Scott Peck presents his vision of the afterlife as we follow the travels of Daniel, a writer and psychiatrist, through the afterlife in the novel In Heaven as on Earth.

West of Dodge by Louis L'Amour is a collection of 14 undiscovered tales unavailable in any other form. L'Amour fans will appreciate this unexpected treat.

John Grisham takes on the jury system in The Runaway Jury. A landmark tobacco trial begins routinely but then the jury begins to behave strangely. Someone is controlling them... but who?

When a mysterious illness strikes Meredith Stratton she must investigate her past to find the cause in Her Own Rules by Barbara Taylor

Bradford.

Across the Miles by L. M. Montgomery is a collection of stories having to do with letters and letter writing by one of Canada's most loved authors.

Farewell to the Twentieth Century by Pierre Berton looks back at some of the fads, follies and fancies of this century from modern funeral practices to Hollywood's rules for car chases.

The library also has previous efforts by these authors if you haven't yet discovered them.

IN MEMORIAM

NELSON, Carl Harvey

In loving memory of my beloved husband, our loving father, loving grandfather and great-grandfather, who passed away June 4, 1986.

Your resting place we visit,
And put flowers there with care,
But no one knows the heartache,
As we turn and leave them there.

We think of you in silence,
And we often speak your name,
But all we have are memories,
And your picture in a frame.

It broke our hearts to lose you,
But you never went alone,
For part of us went with you,
The day God called you home.

The things we feel most deeply,
Are the hardest things to say,
But we, your family loved you,
More than words could ever say.

Sadly missed and lovingly remembered by wife Olive, Deanna and Gordon and family.
